

MA hoe werkt het eigenlijk?

Workshop for starting musicians
29.07.25 – 03.08.25

Are you about to complete your studies at the conservatoire or have you just graduated? Do you have questions about how the industry works or about your career?

During MA Festival 2025 you get the chance to talk to musicians and experts about what's on your mind. You will also get a look behind the scenes by joining the volunteer crew for a few days.

Tuesday 29/07 & Wednesday 30/07 Workshops

We will spend two days discussing important aspects of your professional career with experts and musicians.

Part 1: Inform

Legal consultant & business leader Robin Goossens will give two workshops:

- Statutes & institutions:
 - You will get an overview and explanation of different statutes (self-employed, employee, art work attestation, etc.) and the institutions you can turn to with questions, e.g. about writing grant files or copyright regulations.
- The business side of a project:
 - We will discuss the different structures you can use to organise a project (NPOs, grant makers, etc.). We also discuss some examples of project budgets.

Part 2: Reflect

Together with several guests and the MA Festival management team, we will discuss the following topics during four workshops:

- How is your network doing?
 - The importance of networking is often stressed. But how does a network actually come about? How is your network doing? How can you strengthen it?
- The diversity of careers
 - Few musicians earn their entire income by playing music. What alternatives are there besides the obvious combination of playing and teaching? How do you find out what other talents you have and what competences you want and can strengthen?
- How do you run an ensemble or chamber music group?
 - Setting up and managing a group requires many skills. What can you do yourself, how do you divide tasks, what do you ask external help for?
- Setting up a project, how do you go about it?
 - You have an artistic idea and a group of musicians who want to go for it together. What to do next?

Thursday 31/07 – Sunday 03/08 Experience the festival from the inside

By volunteering at the festival, you will get to know the sector from a different angle. You will help with the following tasks:

- Setting up concert venues
- Welcoming audience and artists
- Transporting artists and equipment (if you have a driver's licence)

What we offer:

- Two days of workshops with experts and guests (depending on who the participants are, the working language will be English or Dutch).
- Catering: we will provide meals for you from Tuesday 29/07 until Sunday evening 03/08. The experts and musicians we invite for the workshops will join us at the table so you can get to know them better.
- Accommodation: you will be accommodated free of charge in Bruges at boarding school Palaestra (check-in Monday 28/07 - check-out Monday 04/08).
- For the time you volunteer, you will receive an expense allowance of €11 per 4-hour shift
- You will receive a ticket for the opening concert of MA Festival on 01/08

What we expect from you:

- You are available and present in Bruges from Tuesday 29/07 to Sunday 03/08.
- In preparation for the workshops, you will engage in conversation with a musician per topic from the 'reflecting' section (see above). You will make notes of these conversations so that you can discuss them as examples during the workshop. You will receive more detailed information about this.

For whom:

- You are a performing musician
- You are pursuing a master's degree or have just graduated as a musician
- You are building a career in Flanders or Brussels. Because some of the topics we will discuss (such as the different statutes or developing projects) are tied to a specific context, we believe the workshop will be most useful for those who work or will work in this context. Specifically, the workshop is intended for those who:
 - have studied or are studying at a Flemish or Brussels Conservatoire.
 - want to build a career in Flanders or Brussels.
- You work with early music

How to apply:

- Send your CV (max 2 pages) & a cover letter (max 1 page) to adele@mafestival.be
- Deadline: 30/04/2025
- If, in addition to the two scheduled days of volunteering, you would also like to volunteer during the week of 4 to 10 August, please let us know.

Five participants will be selected based on their motivation and match with the criteria above.

If you have questions, contact adele@mafestival.be.

The speakers

Vocalist and performer Lieselot De Wilde stands out for her unique creative language and highly personal voice. She collaborates with ensembles and companies such as Ensemble Correspondances, Servir Antico, Zwerm, Zefiro Torna, ASKO/Schönberg, LOD, Zonzo Compagnie and others. Her own projects, such as Around the World in 72 Songs and Figurine, define her artistic identity. In 2021, Lieselot De Wilde won the Flemish Culture Prize Ultima. She is an artistic and coordinating member of WALPURGIS.

Sofie Vanden Eynde has built an international reputation as a specialist in historical plucked instruments. She performs regularly with ensembles such as Il Gardellino, Apotheosis, Apsara, A Nocte Temporis and Hathor Consort. She has played in duo with Lieselot De Wilde, Deborah Cachet, Romina Lischka and Emma Kirkby.

In 2012, Sofie founded Imago Mundi, a meeting place for early and new music, for western and eastern music, for different artistic disciplines. Sofie Vanden Eynde cherishes the differences between cultures, between people, between sounds. She searches for harmony, for points of contact at the margins, for unexpected resonance.

Percussionist Wim Pelgrims has a great passion for contemporary-classical and genre-crossing works. In 2017, he founded Nemø ensemble, a first embodiment of his love for immersive performance. He gives his more playful artistic vision a place in the duo Goggles, which he founded in 2020 together with soprano Esther-Elisabeth Rispens. In 2021 and 2022, he curated his first solo project at Broei Gent, BOLSTER[bubbles]. In addition, in 2022 he attended the 'Curating Diversity' course at Sounds Now, in Finland, as part of expanding his insights and abilities as a curator.

Adriaan De Koster studied Classical Singing after he studied Economic Sciences and Cultural Management. Since 2010, he has sung as a soloist in (baroque) oratorios and as an ensemble singer with groups such as Huelgas Ensemble, Graindelavoix, Pygmalion and the Nederlandse Bachvereniging. In 2015, he co-founded the Utopia Ensemble. This vocal quintet specialises in polyphony and mainly explores the Franco-Flemish Renaissance repertoire from the 16th century. With the ensemble, the equality of voices and blend is essential. In their programmes, they aim to create a musical narrative through which polyphony is presented in a contemporary context.

Robin Goossens is a legal consultant at Cultuurloket and business director at Nadar Ensemble since 2022. He also provides legal support to the cultural sector, specialising in contract law, intellectual property and GDPR. As a business leader, he freelances, including for DAS HAUS, Julie Cafmeyer and HISK. As an amateur violinist, he is active with the string quartet TOSCA.

Adèle Querinjean is business director at MA Festival. After studying musicology and saxophone, she joined the artistic planning and production department at La Monnaie. She was production manager at B'Rock Orchestra & Collegium Vocale Gent and worked as label manager at Passacaille Records. In addition to her position at the festival, she is business associate at Ghent creation and meeting place De Koer. She is driven by a love for classical music and the conviction that every step prior to a concert deserves as much attention and care as the performance itself.

Jan Van den Borre has played with prestigious ensembles such as Collegium Vocale Gent, Vox Luminis, Anima Eterna, Gli Angeli Geneva, Millenium Orchestra and Il Gardellino. He was also a programmer at Apotheosis and The 1750 Project, artistic coordinator at Collegium Vocale Gent and intendant of Il Gardellino. Since 2022, Jan has been artistic director at MA Festival, where he looks at early music with an open mind and stimulates innovation from tradition. Connections between art and society are central here.
